CIVIL RIGHTS Buit Against the Charleston Railroad Company Brought by Colored Pecple for Five Hundred Dellars Damages.

At the United States court, yesterday, case brought under the provisions of the civil rights bill was on trial. The suit was for five hundred dollars damages, claimed by Richard A. and Sallie J. Robinson, colored, against the Memphis and Charleston railroad com-pany, because, some time since, Sallie J. Robinson was not permitted to enter the ladies coach attached to one of the trains, but was given a seat in another coach. The plaintiffs were represented by Colonel William M. Ran-dolph, and the railroad company by Messre. Humes and Poston, attorneys for the road. The suit attracted some attention among the court of justice at this late day, when the civil rights bill was almost forgotten, and had become a useless and played-out political page upon the statute book.

EF WE are happy to announce to our friends and customers that we are again at our post, No 11 INION STREET, prepared to serve them as formerly. Having closed our house in ST. LOUIS, all shipments of cotton to us should be to MEMPHIS. We have a complete stock of Fresh Groceries, including everything in the grocery line, together with first-class shed facilities for handling the staple. Our entire force has returned and are in harness. We solicit your orders for groceries and shipments of cotton, promising our best efforts to protect the interest of those confiding their business to us. We buy strictly for cash, and thereby get bottom figures, consequently are in position to meet any competition. Our Mr. A. C. TREADWELL brings his experience of twenty-five years in the sale of cotton to bear in the interest of shippers. We claim the privilege of insuring all cotton consigned to us to the amount of advances made on same. Our Mr. A. B. TREADWELL, allow a same and the process of the past, we respectfully ask a continuance of the same. Very respectfully,
